

Energy

Energy has a major impact on production costs. Therefore, a decisive factor is its rational use enabling the development of activities at the lowest cost thus enhancing the optimization of margins. In this context, the company undertakes to:

- Promote energy consumption in a balanced manner, by opting, where economically feasible, for products, equipment, technologies and energy-efficient services;
- Use cork dust as biomass, this fact alone has a major impact on energy efficiency;
- Promote, from conception procedures and practices aimed at maximizing energy efficiency, minimizing greenhouse gas emissions that exist in alternative fuels, contributing to the reduction of the carbon footprint.
